Poem: Fires of Hate

This poem was written by Isabel Brokaw when she was 12 years old about the Holocaust

Bio:

Isabel Brokaw lives in Southeastern Connecticut, and was born in Norwich, CT, June 11, 1992. Ever since she was little, Isabel has enjoyed the arts and computers. Over the years, she has drawn hundreds of characters, especially of dragons, of her own creation, and writes stories about them. Isabel will sketch her images, scan them into the computer, and digitally enhance them to her liking. Her interests are animals, Anime, mangas, Pokemon, dragons, and her own story characters from her dream world, Ninsense. Isabel writes brilliant imaginative stories, and is an expert on dragons. Isabel, like her mother Esther Brokaw, has been diagnosed with Asperger's Syndrome.
